Where do you live London Terrace

in West Chelsea in N.Y.C. Favorite art A photo from Sam Haskins, as well as a portrait of my baby by Marco Perego. Oh, and a nude pregnant portrait of me by Patrick Demarchelier.

Sheets Belgian linen sheets from Restoration Hardware.

Luggage Rimowa suitcases and a Samsonite mini carry-on trolley. Stationery I designed my own thank-you notes and got them printed by Alpine Creative Group.

I also designed thank-you notes for my baby at crane.com—to thank everyone for the gifts she got. Favorite flowers White lilies and jasmine. Favorite gadget My iPhone 5. Favorite neighborhood restaurants Izakaya Ten, a hidden gem with a small sake bar, and Rocket Pig, which has only one thing on the menu, a roast-pork sandwich on ciabatta bread. Amazing. Favorite drink A margarita.

Favorite dessert A coffee éclair, or crêpe.

But only when I go to Paris. Favorite snack Sour sweets such as Sour Patch Kids.

Top three DVR shows Dexter; Girls; Sweet Genius, a competitive- dessert-cooking show.

Underwear I am obsessed with Kiki de Montparnasse, for whom I designed a capsule collection last year. T-shirt T by Alexander Wang and Club Monaco—they are very thin and soft. Day bag I have a Chanel tote, where I can fit everything, including baby bottles!

Favorite accessory A Chanel bag I got from my grandmother as a birthday gift. Favorite designers Alaïa, Tom Ford, Dolce & Gabbana, and Alexander Wang. Shopping mecca Net-a-Porter.

I'm a huge fan of online shopping. Even for vintage. I shop at Resurrection online. Boots Right now, my Rick Owens wedge boots, high and comfortable! Also my Alaïa boots, with fur pom-poms. Flats Charlotte Olympia flats with cat faces, perfect to make flats look dressed up. Sneakers Black Nikes, part of the Olympic series—but only inside the gym.

My Stuff

JULIA RESTOIN ROITFELD

Art director, fashion-brand consultant, and model Julia Restoin Roitfeld has recently launched a lifestyle site, Romy and the Bunnies, for new and expectant mothers. Herewith, her favorite things...

BEAUTY PRODUCTS

Lipstick Max Factor Ruby Tuesday, the perfect shade of red. Mascara L'Oréal Voluminous Million Lashes. Shampoo Kérastase for color-treated hair. It smells amazing. Moisturizer I love cocoa butter or Hei Poo Monoï Oil. Hair products Moroccanoil and Kérastase Chronologiste, a mask with caviar pearls. Toothpaste Colgate Simply White. Soap Johnson's Baby Shampoo—I steal from my baby. Nail-polish color Essie's Pinking Up the Pieces—transparent with a hint of pink and glitter. Hairdresser I don't let anyone cut my hair! I'm too scared they will cut too much. But Christopher John at Garren New York does my color. Facials I go to my friend Nachi, who has her own little spa in Chelsea, called Mist Beauty.

INSPIRATIONS

Favorite discovery Eight-mm. camera app on my iPhone. Who inspires you Actresses from the 50s and 60s. For example, I am going to an AmFAR gala tonight and have been looking at old pictures of Claudia Cardinale and Sophia Loren for hair and makeup. Necessary extravagance A weekend in the sun. Favorite places in the world I have many—Tokyo, Sydney, Tulum in Mexico, and, of course, N.Y.C. Favorite charity Smile Train. It's a charity for kids born with a cleft lip or palate. The surgery costs as little as $250. I don't see anything better than giving a child a smile, literally. Favorite movies Falling Down and The War of the Roses. Favorite colors Black. But when on holiday, I like bright colors—any shade of blue or purple. Fashion idols My mom. And also Helmut Newton. I love how he portrays women so strongly.*
